Sexual and gender harassment is a serious form of gender discrimination and an attack on the personality and dignity of the person concerned.

Sexual and gender harassment at work is prohibited by law.

The Swiss Conference of Gender Equality Offices (SCGE) has developed a set of materials for the prevention of sexual and gender harassment in the workplace.

They address companies and private or public organizations, are free of charge and freely accessible for all. They include:

SHEET 1 MANAGEMENT BOARD

Measures and recommendations

SHEET 2 HR AND MANAGERS

Tasks, duties and recommendations for action

SHEET 3 ALL EMPLOYEES »

Policy statement and general information on sexual and gender harassment at work

FILM 1 *SEXUAL AND GENDER HARASSMENT IN THE WORKPLACE

The Film may be combined with Fact Sheet 3

FILM 2 EMPLOYER'S DUTIES »

The Film may be combined with Fact Sheet 1 and 2

E-LEARNING *ME? HARASSMENT?! IT'S NO LONGER A LAUGHING MATTER! »

The e-learning tool, provided by the Canton of Geneva, addresses all employees

This set of materials was created with the financial support of the Federal Government. They support employers who strive to comply with their legal obligations to prevent and stop sexual and gender harassment in the workplace.

The SCGE would like to thank the Canton of Geneva for making its e-learning tool available to other cantons, municipalities and companies, and for its collaboration in the development of the materials.

Recommendations

Before using these materials, your company / organization should define the guidelines for the implementation of the planned preventive measures against sexual and gender harassment in the workplace.

→ See Fact Sheet 1 for the management: Measures and recommendations

The materials for the prevention of sexual and gender harassment in the workplace can be used in training courses or events that concern personnel policy, corporate health care or values of the company / organization.

Sexual and gender harassment in the workplace can be made the subject of discussion either exclusively or in connection with other subjects such as bullying or burn-out, depending on the circumstances and culture of your company / organization. The second option may help to reduce any possible resistance within the company / organization.

Film 1, Sexual and gender harassment in the workplace and Film 2, Employer's duties, can be used together, but can also be used separately. Film 1 is about recognizing sexual and gender harassment, Film 2 is about how to prevent and stop sexual and gender harassment.

The Fact Sheets contain the essential information concerning sexual and gender harassment in the workplace. In order to adapt them to your needs you can just fill in the spaces provided for this purpose (e.g. with details of internal or external contacts, the company / organization).

Lastly, an e-learning tool, developed by the Canton of Geneva, proposes awareness raising through roleplays.
